

Re-Appportion Rule By Supreme Court

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., says the Soviet Union has stopped withdrawing its troops from Cuba in what may be an effort to "guard the missile sites or to protect the Cuban regime from its own enemies."

Keating, on a program recorded for radio and television in New York, estimated Sunday that between 4,000 and 7,000 Soviet troops remain in Cuba.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Population Reference Bureau, Inc., warns that population growth may force "rigid rationing of the use of national parks" as they become more crowded.

In a research report issued Sunday, the bureau noted that the one-billionth visitor to the national parks was recorded in Aug. 28, 1962—58 years after they were established. But the second billionth visitor is expected in 1973.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson attended the National City Christian Church Sunday and, like most of his fellow worshippers, used a church-provided paper fan to cool himself.

Johnson was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and two members of his Cabinet — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and their wives.

Holding Five In Rash Of Break-Ins

Area authorities are holding five young persons — one a juvenile boy — on suspicion of involvement in six incidents of break-ins or attempted break-ins over the weekend at LaMonte, Smithton and Otterville.

Law enforcement officers got their major break when Otterville city marshal Ira Homan surprised two young men in the act of breaking a rear door glass at Blakesley's Grocery on the north side of Otterville's main street. A window had also been broken at Miller's Cafe, on Highway 50, in Otterville, but entrance was not gained at either the grocery store or cafe.

The two youths fled and were shot at by city marshal Homan, but they escaped. The marshal, however, took two young women and a 16-year-old juvenile boy into custody.

"I was called about 2:25 a.m. by E. H. Fowler, who lives on the corner about halfway between the cafe and the store," Homan said. "I saw the two boys breaking the glass at the back of the store."

Homan said the two ran south-east across Highway 50 and the Missouri-Pacific railroad tracks and escaped into some brush there.

"I fired three shots, but don't think I hit either of them," Homan said.

Cooper County Sheriff Lylburn Mann was notified of the three apprehensions and came to Otterville to join the investigation.

Pettis County Sheriff Emmet Fairfax moved into the search for the missing pair about 5 a.m. after being notified by Cooper County authorities. Fairfax (Please turn to page 2, col. 3)

Assessed Valuation Up for the County

Pettis County's local assessed valuation is up $558,208 this year as the result of a rise in the real estate valuation.

Local assessment records completed recently by Assessor Jerry Trotter and turned over to County Clerk J. H. Green showed a total personal property valuation of $12,013,428 and a real estate valuation of $38,694,070. The two figures give a total local assessment of $50,707,548. Assessments last year totalled $49,849,340, with $12,019,200 of that personal and $37,830,140 in real estate.

Corporation assessments made by the state are yet to be received by the county clerk and should run the total valuation to over $63 million. Corporation assessments totalled $12,166,273 here last year.

Dramatic Changes Seen In State Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—A wholesale and historic revamping of state legislatures was decreed today by the Supreme Court.

The tribunal ruled that the seats in both houses of state legislatures "must be apportioned on a population basis."

This spells turmoil in most of the states because a majority of state legislatures are not so apportioned.

It also means vastly increased powers for city and suburban residents — especially suburbanites — as against their country cousins, who have been in control of legislatures across the country.

Court tests involving the representation balance of one or both houses of legislatures are under way in a number of states. In one of them, New Jersey, attorney David Friedland whose suit is pending before the State Supreme Court, commented today that the Supreme Court decision could produce "the most dramatic change in state government in a hundred years."

The court ruled initially in three appeals from Alabama, and then went on to:

Pronounce unconstitutional the present legislative apportionment system of New York State.

Declare that neither house of the Maryland Legislature "even after the 1962 legislation reapportioning the House of Delegates, is apportioned sufficiently on a population basis to be constitutionally sustainable."

Ruled that neither of the houses of the Virginia General Assembly is apportioned sufficiently on a population basis to be constitutional.

Upheld a lower court decision that both houses of the Delaware Legislature must be reapportioned along population lines.

The basic ruling, which will have incalculable effects on American politics, was read by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

"We mean that the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution requires that a state make an honest and goodfaith effort to construct districts in both houses of its legislature, as nearly of equal population as is practicable," Warren said.

The court struck down, in no uncertain terms, the doctrine that states may adopt the "little federal system." Rural interests, trying to preserve at least a veto power in state legislatures, had pointed to the federal system in operation in the U.S. Congress.

War Games Costly For Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent Army-Air Force war games in the Far West cost about $54 million and were the most costly since World War II, it was learned today.

The Associated Press was told this was the price tag on Desert Strike, a two-week mock war in which some 100,000 Army troops and Air Force units duelled over areas of California, Arizona and Nevada last month.

The Defense Department said it originally had been calculated the exercise would cost $60.1 million, but that various economies had sliced about $6 million from that estimate.

By comparison, "Exercise Big Lift" last fall cost $20 million. In this operation, the 16,000 men of an armored division were flown 5,600 miles from Texas to Germany and returned after maneuvers near the Iron Curtain.

The Pentagon said "the major contributing factor to the cost of joint exercise Desert Strike was the commercial transportation of the armored units and their heavy equipment to and from the exercise area."

Two armored divisions — the 1st and 2nd — were moved by train from Ft. Hood, Tex., to the three-state battleground. Armored divisions have about 3,750 vehicles, including 364 tanks and 660 personnel carriers.

Insurance Executive Heart Attack Victim

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Louis B. McGee, 62, Kansas City insurance executive and civic leader, died Sunday in Scottsdale, Ariz., where he had stayed about six weeks.

Death apparently was caused by a heart attack. He had suffered previous attacks and was afflicted with arthritis.

McGee was active nationally in the Democratic party and served in many local civic organizations.

An alumnus of Rockhurst College, he was presented the school's Pro Meritis award in 1960. He was chairman of the Rockhurst board of regents 1957-59.

Lodge Denies He Will Quit

Report of Resignation Termed Without Basis

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP—(U.S.) Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge today termed "totally untrue" a Washington report that he was resigning within 30 days.

"There is no truth at all in that," Lodge said through a spokesman.

Lodge repeatedly has denied similar reports in the past.

On one recent occasion he said "I am not resigning but I don't plan to stay here the rest of my life, either."

The New York Times had reported that Lodge had asked to be relieved within 30 days for reasons of health. The White House in Washington said President Johnson had received no letter of resignation.

The Columbia Broadcasting System reported from Saigon that Lodge said the report he had submitted his resignation was "totally untrue."

The American Broadcasting Co. said Lodge, talking Sunday night in Saigon with ABC correspondent Charles P. Arnot, denied published reports that he was returning to the United States before the Republican National Convention. Lodge made no mention in the taped interview about resigning, an ABC spokesman said.

Lodge, 61, won New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary on write-in votes and now has 46 delegates who say they will vote for him on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention opening in San Francisco July 13.

Lodge's son, George Cabot Lodge, reported Sunday that he had informed the ambassador on Friday that the draft Lodge movement was supporting Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who entered the GOP presidential race that day.

Scranton, after making a commencement address at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., was to go to Des Moines, Iowa, to confer with the Iowa delegation to the national convention.

Tuesday he will be at Topeka, Kan., and Minneapolis, Minn. Wednesday, he goes to St. Louis, Mo., and Denver, Colo., and on Saturday he is booked to keynote the Massachusetts GOP convention. Aides said there was a possibility other states would be included on the week's tour.

Scranton said he would speak every day this week, unless the work of the Pennsylvania Legislature prevents it.

He has admitted he started late in the campaign and has a long, uphill fight. But, he has said, "I am a good, hard, fast runner."

Scranton's aides contend the Pennsylvania has more than 105 delegates, but they are banking on strong second ballot support at the San Francisco convention to put Scranton into the top spot.

Goldwater presently holds a long lead in delegate strength, with 619 votes, according to the latest Associated Press poll. This is only 36 short of the number needed for nomination.

The Associated Press poll gives Scranton 113, compared to 127 for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, the No. 2 man in the delegate race.

Delmar Duncan of Boonville suffered an arm injury. The other man jumped to safety.

Sudden Rail Strike

MoPac And Katy Lines Affected

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Four major railroads operating south and west of St. Louis and Kansas City were hit by a surprise strike at 6 a.m. today and all traffic not rolling already was halted.

Affected were the Missouri Pacific, Texas & Pacific, the Missouri, Kansas, Texas—Katy—and some sections of the Southern Pacific.

Pickets are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which represents brakemen, yardmasters and switchmen. Other unions honored the picket lines.

Louis E. Corsi, a public relations spokesman in the union's Cleveland, Ohio, headquarters, said the purpose of the strikes "is redress to clear up a lot of local conditions that have existed for years; pay, working conditions, and everything."

He said the Missouri Pacific had changed its procedures for physical examinations and has refused to supply the proper number of men to perform relief work for brakemen and switchmen.

At Palestine, Tex., John Purdum, general chairman of the union's Missouri Pacific Gulf Division, said the strike was called because "the railroad in our opinion has violated working agreements and awards by the National Railway Adjustment Board."

He said one of the principal points in dispute was physical examinations which he said

Seek Court Order To Break Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—One of six railroads hit by a sudden strike over work rules sought today a federal court order prohibiting the walkout by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The Missouri Pacific Lines filed a petition seeking a temporary restraining order on its behalf and on behalf of its subsidiary, the Texas & Pacific Lines that operate in Louisiana and Texas.

The union — representing brakemen, yardmasters and switchmen — stationed pickets early today at many installations of the Missouri Pacific, Texas & Pacific, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, a portion of the Southern Pacific, Texas & Mexican and the Houston Port Terminal railroads.

The petition, filed with District Judge James H. Meredith, seeks to halt the picketing and interference with the movement of rolling stock and equipment.

were aimed at elimination of personnel.

Charles Luna, president of the brotherhood, said the strike deals with local contract changes.

In Washington, U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff said late Sunday night he had issued a 10-day temporary restraining order against the brotherhood enjoining a strike against a number of railroads. The judge set a hearing in the case for June 22.

5,000 Union Men Involved In Walkout

Spokesman Lists Union Grievances Against Railroads

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said about 5,000 union members are involved in today's strikes. He listed the following grievances against the railroads:

Texas and Pacific — Union wants rules changes to modernize the contract. Most of the changes involve payment for extra work and who gets which job.

Port Terminal Association, Houston—Employees want to be paid for coupling air hoses, which the union claims is standard procedure in the industry. The union also objects to the railroad keeping men on the extra board when some of them are entitled to regular jobs.

Southern Pacific (Atlantic System)—Involves a man the union claims was fired because he obeyed a conductor's orders. The union says a railroad official decided the conductor was wrong and fired the other man. The union asserts the conductor is in charge of the train.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas — Refusal to bargain on issues, which the union did not specify publicly.

Missouri Pacific—Alleged interference with personal rights in the doctor - patient relationship. The union claims the railroad has revised physical examination requirements without negotiating a change in rules, as provided by the Railway Labor Act. It also charges railroad canceled part of an employee hospitalization contract which allowed treatment at certain hospitals. Railroad, the union contends, has demanded an employee go to a private doctor from whom they get medical records.

The union also accuses the Missouri Pacific of refusing to supply enough men to permit relief assignment, and some brakemen and switchmen have had to postpone their vacations.

Traffic Light Check Promise

Mayor L. L. Studer said today that he had received assurance from the district engineer of the State Highway Department that another survey of the flow of traffic would be made at the intersection of south Highway 65 and 32nd Street.

Studer said the engineer gave him no date when the survey would be conducted, but said he was assured it would be "very soon."

"I think a traffic control signal is just as necessary at 32nd Street as it is at 16th Street," Studer said. "It took over two years to get a light at 16th."

A traffic survey was taken at the 32nd Street intersection at the same time a survey proved a light was warranted at 16th and Limit. The Highway Department said, however, their survey indicated a control signal was not warranted at 32nd.

Max Whitman Dead

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The body of Max Whitman, 32, was found hanging from a beam in the basement of his home Sunday. Police said he left a note to his wife.

Whitman, former recreation director at Algoa Intermediate Reformatory, had been working as an advance man and operating a sound truck in the governorship campaign of Sec. of State Warren E. Hearnes.

OFFICIAL BIRTHDAY—Britain's Queen Elizabeth II rides "Imperial," a chestnut police horse, sidesaddle from Buckingham Palace to the Horse Guards parade ground in London for the annual trooping of the color ceremony that marks her official birthday. Although she was 38 in April, her birthday is not celebrated until June because the weather is better.

See Rights Bill Passage During Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders drive this week for passage of the civil rights bill, and so confident are they of victory, they already are turning their attention to other major administration legislation.

A tremendous pileup of House-approved measures is awaiting Senate action once the civil rights bill is passed.

All sides, including the Southerners who have fought the bill since March 9, concede it will pass this week, with Wednesday or Thursday considered the most likely day.

Sen. Barry Goldwater will vote against the measure unless it is materially revised, his campaign manager said Sunday night. Denison Kitchel said Goldwater, Arizona Republican who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, objects to the bill's provisions on public accommodation and private employment practices. No revisions are likely on these provisions.

Among the "must" measures waiting their turn in the Senate is the $533-million federal pay increase bill the House passed last Thursday. The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee has given tentative approval to much of the measure, but has additional sessions scheduled.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said hearings also may start soon on the President Johnson's $962-million anti-poverty legislation.

The House Rules Committee meets on this Tuesday and is expected to clear it for House floor action, probably next week.

City Appointments On Council Agenda

Sedalia's city council meets in regular session tonight at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall and appointments to various boards and committees are again on the agenda.

Mayor L. L. Studer had scheduled announcement of the appointments three council sessions ago, but the council has requested delay at the past two meetings.

Up for appointment, according to the mayor, are three seats which have expired on the Crown Hill Cemetery Board, three seats of the Airport Board, two on the Board of Plumber Examiners, one on the Board of Public Works, two on the Police Personnel Board, two on the Planning and Zoning Commission, two on the Zoning Board of Adjustment, and two on the Bothwell Hospital Board.

Also scheduled to be named is the city Traffic Advisory Committee.

Crown Drugs Will Open ZIP Store

The Crown Drug Store at Third and Ohio closed its doors Monday morning and will re-open in about four weeks under a new name, and with a completely new method of operation.

The store will be known as the ZIP Discount Drug Center, and the operation will handle only prescriptions, "name brand" drugs and selected toilet articles, according to Joe Remy, Kansas City, operations manager for ZIP stores in this area, who was present at the store along with the division manager, John Greenhagen.

Remy said the building is being completely remodeled, including lowering the ceiling and installing new fixtures and an air conditioning unit.

Al Cassing, who managed the Crown Drug Store, will manage the new ZIP store. The ZIP stores are a division of the Crown Drug Co.

The huge variety of merchandise familiar to Sedalia shoppers at the old Crown Drug Store, ranging from crayons, tobacco products to a quick lunch counter, will be missing. The liquor store will be disbanded. Remy said all state and city liquor licenses have been forwarded to his home office for disposal. The current inventory of stock will be turned over to other Crown Drug stores.

The new hours of operation will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday, except on Fridays, when the store will close at 9 p.m., along with other Sedalia Stores.

Question Young Man in Death Of Miss Braswell

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Police are questioning a young man about the drowning of Miss Dorothy June Braswell, 24, in Lake Jacomo.

Kenneth Wayne Worth, 22, walked into police headquarters Sunday and said he had driven to the lake Wednesday night with Miss Braswell in her car after they had been drinking in a tavern.

Police quoted Worth as saying he hit the woman with his fists while they were drinking beer at the lake, but he denied throwing her into the water.

The woman's body was found by a fisherman Friday.

An autopsy disclosed death was caused by drowning, but head wounds indicated she probably was unconscious when she entered the water.

Worth said he drove Miss Braswell's car back to town and left it in a no-parking zone where it was found Thursday. He said he placed under the windshield wiper a note reading: "This is a stolen car. Return it to Dorothy Braswell, 2549 Hiawatha Street, Kansas City, Kan."

May Impose Use Tax On Atomic Energy Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decided today that Tennessee may impose its use tax on property used by two private companies in operation of Oak Ridge plants of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Justice Byron R. White delivered the unanimous decision.

Tennessee sought to impose the 3 per cent use tax on Union Carbide Corp. and the H. K. Ferguson Co. which operate under contracts with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Tennessee courts upheld the levy on the ground the firms are independent contractors and, as such, are taxable on their private use of government-owned property.

Power Off Awhile

A tree limb across a power line caused a power shortage in a section of southeast Sedalia for about three hours between 1 and 4 a.m. Monday morning.

Clinton Black, electrical engineer for the Missouri Public Service Co. said this was the only major power disturbance during the heavy weekend rainfall. Some individual services were out for short periods, Black said, but were soon restored.

Ann Landers Cited For TB Crusade

Ann Landers, whose human relations column appears in The Democrat-Capital received a citation from the National Tuberculosis Association for her efforts as national honorary chairman of the 1963 Christmas Seal drive.

The drive brought more than $27,000,000, characterized as "a tremendous result" by Herbert C. De Young, Chicago attorney and past president of the National Tuberculosis Association and the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

De Young praised Miss Landers for spearheading the efforts of 250,000 volunteer and professional health workers in spreading the message of the Christmas Seal, and for outstanding public service in rendering assistance to tuberculosis associations throughout the United States.

"Through your efforts, additional thousands know that the use of Christmas Seals means more early-discovered cases of tuberculosis," De Young said.

Response to the drive made it one of the greatest in the history of the association's 60-year fight against the disease, he added.

Miss Landers' human relations column appears in 564 newspapers across the U. S., Canada, Australia, Puerto Rico, Tokyo, Venezuela, South Africa and Scotland.

Previous national citations for Miss Landers include the National Epilepsy League's award for the best writing on epilepsy by a non-medical writer. Miss Landers presented the first sheet of 1963 Christmas Seals to the late President Kennedy in a White House ceremony last year.

fax, in the meantime, was informed of burglaries at Hoehn's Feed Store and Cochran's Service Station in Smithton.

The two youths who were believed to have escaped the Ottumville marshal were apprehended about 11:15 a.m. Monday by Sheriff Fairfax and Deputy Virgil Morris near Beaman.

They were identified by Sheriff Fairfax as Roger McGinnis, 17, Beaman, and John Angel, 19, Green Ridge.

The sheriff said the two were found sleeping in an abandoned car near McGinnis' home.

Fairfax said an attempted break-in was made at the Cochran Service Station at Smithton, but entry was not gained.

However, at Hoehn's Feed Store, the burglars broke an east window, attempted to open a safe inside and made off with a quantity of tools, including pry bars and etc. No other loss was reported.

A tavern and service station were burglarized Saturday night and Sheriff Fairfax said he had observed the McGinnis boy in LaMonte about 1 a.m. Sunday morning. At that time, however, the sheriff was not aware of the break-ins.

A rear window was broken at "The Hub" tavern, but no loss was reported. At the Conoco Station in LaMonte, the front door was broken open, a few cigarettes taken and the gasoline pumps turned on. Fairfax said it had not been determined if any gasoline was taken.

Fairfax also investigated a house burglary in Sedalia Sunday night. He reported some food, a record player, clothing and some jewelry were taken from John White home, 103 East 28th. Fairfax said these items were recovered in the car when the two girls and the juvenile boy were apprehended.

Sheriff Lyburn Mann of Cooper County took the two girls to Booneville and is holding them in the county jail while the investigation is being completed. They were identified as Mrs. Delilah Trimble, 18, and Phyllis Collins, both of Sedalia.

Fairfax said the two girls and the juvenile were apprehended in a car owned by William Trimble, 22, Kansas City, who is being held in the Pettis County jail in lieu of $1,000 bond after being bound over on a charge of issuing a no account check. Trimble is the husband of Delilah Trimble.

The juvenile boy was brought to the Pettis County jail where his case was turned over to Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn.

Sheriff Mann and Sheriff Fairfax were questioning McGinnis and Angel in Fairfax's office here during the noon hour.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Couts said investigation by officers was expected to clear the Ottumville, LaMonte and Smithton and Sedalia burglaries, as well as a Green Ridge break-in Friday morning in which the Bill Ridenour tavern was entered and $158 taken.

ANN LANDERS receives citation from Herbert C. De Young, past president of the National Tuberculosis Ass'n., and the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. Citation is in recognition of her work as national honorary chairman of the 1963 Christmas Seal Drive, which raised more than $27,000,000 in contributions to fight TB and other respiratory diseases.

Fear Traffic Jam During Bus Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police feared a massive traffic jam today as a bus drivers' strike left more than 500,000 daily riders in the Los Angeles metropolitan with automobiles as their only alternative.

Some 2,500 bus drivers went on strike Sunday against the Metropolitan Transit Authority. They were eight cents apart in negotiations on a pay raise.

Riders in four counties were affected. Some travel 25 miles or more to work.

Police called in all traffic officers except those on vacation. Two police helicopters were assigned to direct traffic cars and motorcycle officers to tie-ups. An augmented motorcycle squad was assigned to patrol freeways during rush hours.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, representing the strikers, called the walkout at 12:01 a.m. Sunday.

Talks stalemated Saturday and union and management said no more were scheduled.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority operates 1,346 buses in Los Angeles County and adjoining Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. It collects 700,000 fares daily, counting round trips.

City Auto License Seekers Form Line

Sedalia motorists who waited to the final day to purchase their city auto licenses found Monday morning that there were plenty of others who also delayed the purchase to the end.

At 10 a.m. Monday a line was observed across the sidewalk and into the street, waiting to get to the desk of City Collector Mrs. Frank Hugelman. A lengthy line flowed all morning.

Police can be expected to begin issuing tickets soon to those autos and trucks not displaying their stickers. June 1 is the normal deadline for purchase of the stickers, but the collector's office allows the customary 15-day extension.

Cancel Board Meet

The Chamber of Commerce board meeting which was to have been held Tuesday afternoon has been cancelled.

Franklin said he arrested the pair Monday and turned them over to Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn.

225 Attend Breakfast By Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce breakfast, sponsored by the Franchised New Car Dealers of Sedalia, was attended by about 225 persons Monday morning at the Sacred Heart Cafeteria. The dealers are: Bryant Motor Co., Mike O'Connor Chevrolet-Buick Co., Routsong Motor Co., Thompson-Greer, Inc., T & G Motor Co., Queen City Motors, Cal Rodgers Motor Co., and Fitzwilliam Motor, Inc.

Sam Boyle, executive manager of the Chamber, was the speaker and was introduced by Richard Fitzwilliams.

Boyle pointed out the importance of the automobile industry saying that, as a group, it is one of the largest, if not the largest taxpayer in the United States.

In Sedalia, he said, in all phases of the automotive industry, there are well over 1,000 people employed, and from an industrial standpoint makes the automotive industry the largest employer of people in Sedalia.

Michigan, he stated is the largest manufacturer of cars, and Missouri is second.

Sedalia has eight franchised new car dealers, he went on to say, eight used car dealers, 25 auto repair shops, 64 service stations, 10 bulk plants to service, seven tire stores, plus other associated and affiliated businesses.

In 1941, Boyle said, factory sales of vehicles were 4,840,502, and in 1963 the sales were 9,100,436 and 80 per cent of the families in the United States own automobiles and of that total 15.6 per cent own more than one car.

In 1963, he went on to say, special motor user taxes in the State of Missouri totaled $106,225,000 and this figure constituted 27 per cent of the total state tax revenue, and in 1962 Missourians paid, in addition to Missouri taxes, federal automotive excise taxes of $124,443,000.

There are 11,900,000 people employed in highway transportation industries in the United States and 302,447 in Missouri. Boyle told of the missile program that had been in Sedalia the past few years and of the Boeing people who had lived here, entered into the various civic activities of the city and had been such good neighbors.

He told of the Good Neighbor Fund set up by these people for their contributions to the different agency funds, including the Children's Therapy Center, stating Sedalia hates to see them leave.

He then introduced David H. Macaffree, who said that the Boeing people had enjoyed Sedalia, made many friends and they, too, hated to say goodbye.

P. Cecil Owen, president, presided over the meeting and introduced those at the head table, Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, Carl Yates, second vice - president and Mrs. Yates; Ralph Walker, membership director; E. L. McClung, director of public relations and his chairman, Ed Mitchell; Richard Fitzwilliams and Dave Routsong, chairmen of the Franchised New Car Dealers, and Mrs. Vivian Warren, Chamber of Commerce office manager and treasurer, who made the arrangements for the breakfast.

Owen stated that 64 new members joined the Chamber since March 1, this year.

The new members were introduced by Ralph Walker and the following were present: Wray Schroeder, State Farm Insurance; Wallace Ressel, Hobson and Sons Carpet Co.; George Thomasetti, The Leather Shop; Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Connor, Gregg Connor Corp.; E. K. Eshiemann, Canteen Company of Sedalia; L. A. Ziegler, Sho-Me Kort Motel; George Thompson, State Farm Insurance; John E. Snodgrass, Sedalia Insurance Agency; William R. Parkhurst, Move Inc.; George Miller, West Side Realty; Dr. J. W. Bryden, DC; W. J. Foote and Marcus H. Kitch, Jr., Mac

State Troopers Taken Victim By Young Men

EPHRATA, Pa. (AP)—Two state policemen were shot and wounded and two others captured and handcuffed to a tree for a brief period Sunday by three men who were stopped on the Pennsylvania Turnpike for a routine radar speed check.

The three, all from Milwaukee, Wis., were arrested by police several hours later, after a massive manhunt with bloodhounds and helicopters. State Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy directed some 100 men in the hunt.

The three, Gerald L. Sarson, 17, Howard E. Langnes, 24, and James Eugene Sulczewski, 21, were charged with assault with intent to kill, pointing a deadly weapon, and aggravated assault and battery against a police officer.

They were committed to Lancaster County prison, awaiting a hearing. Lt. Rufus Williams said additional charges will be filed.

The wounded troopers are Edward Herbst, 35, of Reamstown, Pa., and Fred W. Bendt, 22, of Nazareth, Pa. Herbst was shot in the face and neck and was reported in serious condition at Ephrata General Hospital. Bendt, who was shot in the leg, was reported in satisfactory condition.

Police theorized that the trio shot at the troopers because they were in a stolen car and because they may have picked up for other crimes in Milwaukee.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Readers: Remember the letter from the neighbors who wrote about Kelly's dog who wouldn't eat meat on Friday? Well, that letter unleashed a torrent of testimonials which strongly suggests that our furred and feathered friends are at least as smart as people—if not smarter. Here are some samples from the mail:

From Highland Park, Illinois: If you think Kelly's dog is unusual what would you say about our English Setter, Leviticus?

We got "Lev" when he was four months old—a gift from friends who are deeply religious. These friends adhere rigidly to the strict dietary laws of their faith.

Leviticus not only refuses to eat meat which is not kosher but the meat must be served to him on a Yiddish newspaper. We have tried both the Chicago Sun - Times and the Chicago Daily News but Lev cannot be fooled.—RIGHT HAND UP.

Dear Right Hand Up: I have no comment whatever to make on Leviticus. Particularly since Mrs. Helen Palmer, women's editor of the Toronto Star, sent me a clipping from that paper describing a kosher cat, owned by Rabbi Louis Farrell.

The mixing of meat and milk is forbidden by Orthodox Jewish law. Rabbi Farrell's cat must have known this because he refused to drink milk when meat was served. Frequently the kosher cat demonstrated his dedication to this dietary law for guests — to their utter amazement.

From Miami: I don't want to take anything away from Kelly's dog, but did you know there was a chimpanzee down in Daytona Beach who used to play gin rummy? His master began by letting the chimp play a few hands for kicks. When that chimp blitzed one of the best card players in Florida in three hands, the boys got mad and wouldn't let the monkey sit in the game.

From Seattle: Our Weimaraner, Ellsworth, loves classical music. He sits meditatively when Ormandy or Bernstein recordings are on the hi-fi. When the kids put on the rock-and-roll Ellsworth leaves the room. Several months ago our daughter bought some Beethoven records. Ellsworth whined and moaned and finally put his paw on the knob and turned the machine off.

Columbus, Ohio: Our dog "Strib" was only a mutt but he was an awfully smart mutt. When I was nine years old, Mom announced to the family that we were going to have a new baby in the house.

The very next morning "Strib" went out for his morning walk and returned carrying a baby shoe in his mouth. He proudly laid it at Mother's feet. For the next several months he kept bringing home baby shoes — about one every two weeks. This went on until the new baby came and then he stopped.

From Kansas City: Our oldest daughter went with a guy I never could warm up to. When he came to call our beagle had to be put in the back hall. Sparky hated that fellow, and he sure did show it. She married the guy and he turned out to be a real rat. I told my two younger daughters I didn't want any fellows coming to the house the second time of Sparky didn't like 'em. This may sound nutty, but both girls used Sparky as a guide and today they are married to two fine young men and are very happy.

From Los Angeles: Our mynah bird, Socrates, had a fairly large vocabulary and did a good bit of talking. We always thought mynah birds were strictly imitators, but now I'm not so sure. Three days before the California election for governor I was having an argument with a friend. I said to him, "I'll bet you $20 Nixon will win." Socrates poked his head through the cage and shrieked "NO. NO, Pat Brown will win, Pat Brown will win." How do you like them apples?

Increase in Liquid Assets Regarded As a Solid Sign

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — If your bills keep pouring in and your debts seem to go only one way — up—here's a happy thought from a cold statistic:

The public's liquid assets this year have increased 6.6 per cent.

And liquid assets, lest you jump to the wrong conclusion, are regarded as a very sober and solid part of the nation's economy.

Bankers define liquid assets as the public's holdings of money, time deposits in commercial and mutual savings banks, postal savings, savings and loan shares, U.S. savings bonds, the government securities maturing within one year.

You have other assets, doubtless just as meaningful to you, but a bit less liquid because they can't be drawn upon quite as fast and surely in the market place. These include equity in your home, auto, appliances and other furnishings, your stake in Social Security and private pension reserves, your insurance policies, your investments in real estate and long-term securities.

All types of personal assets come to well over a trillion dollars now. They are a reassuring factor when economists worry about mounting debts—personal as well as government — and about monthly payments that tend to rise as personal income does.

Millions of families have both savings and debts, of course. Others may be strongest in debts. Some are above the average in liquid assets.

But just as totals, the personal financial assets of Americans top the personal debts by a comfortable figure, as expressed in current market values.

The assets swelled by $44 billion in 1963, and the debts by $23.6 billion.

The increase in personal liquid assets shows that people have the wherewithal to spend on what they want this summer, if they wish. And the merchants, the dealers, the resort owners, transportation companies are counting on them.

The rise in employment above the 71 million mark adds all the more money to be tapped.

But all liquid assets don't just flow into one pocket and out the other — they just sometimes seem to. The year is likely to end with Americans—as a whole if not yourself in particular—being worth still more than now in spite of all the attractive ways to spend that seem to multiply.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An estimated 16,000 Catholics staged orderly demonstrations in the central Viet Nam cities of Danang and Hue Sunday, charging persecution of Catholics in their area.

Unarmed police and gendarmes patrolled the demonstrations and no violence was reported.

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Romania will empty most of its political prisons by the end of the year, says Deputy Premier Alexandru Birladeanu.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Birladeanu said Sunday Romania had freed 7,674 political prisoners without publicity in the past 3½ years.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The government has taken political rights away from 80 more Brazilians in a final listing of persons suspected of extreme left leanings or close association with the regime of deposed President Joao Goulart.

President Humberto Castello Branco issued the list Sunday a few hours before the purge deadline set last April after the military-civilian group overthrew Goulart.

GENEVA (AP)—A new and smaller U.N. Trade and Development Conference, to be a permanent organ of the United Nations, has been recommended to tackle economic problems of underdeveloped nations.

The present conference of 122 nations, now drawing to a close, has failed to produce a significant achievement in its three months of meetings. Agreement for a smaller conference of up to 55 nations was seen as a face-saving device to cover the conference's failure.

Not From a Silver Tray

The missile construction project in Central Missouri is all but completed after a three year period in which stimulating benefits occurred to the local economy.

Sedalia became the hub of activity related to which was the expenditure of millions of federal dollars for payrolls, housing, materials, etc., and the consequent flow of a great portion of it into the channels of trade.

Now that it is over can Sedalia afford to present the image of an overfed glutton, stretching out on the couch for a long nap while the vitamins and calories dissipate internally?

Mention has been made repeatedly that the Kaysinger Dam project, forty miles away, will just naturally become a supplementary, post-missile shot in the arm for Sedalia's economy without effort on our part.

Since President Lyndon Johnson gave the Kaysinger construction start his budget blessing, there's scant possibility it ever will be sidetracked. This looks like a five-year project of great financial proportions running into $146 millions and employment of several thousands.

Whether we like it or not, in respect to Kaysinger there are some small towns in the area like Warsaw, Clinton, Lincoln, Warrensburg and Windsor with fingers just itching to pull out a plum. They are not insensitive to the prospects of the juicy ingredients available as a natural consequence of huge federal expenditures in their neighborhood.

Already initiated in Warsaw is a move by a Community Betterment Committee to perfect an overall plan for coping with the influx of those who will build the dam, clear the reservoir, purchase land, reroute roads, relocate homes, etc. Plan well and work hard is their early motto. Windsor has an eye on the ultimate recreational benefits and predicts its community will double in size.

To show how the ball is beginning to bounce on the sidelines, with perhaps some political overtones, an item of news reveals that Benton county which has been under the jurisdiction of the Sedalia Employment Security office here in Sedalia, has been assigned to Clinton Employment Security Office. This will make Clinton headquarters for employment of workers on the $146 million Kaysinger Dam construction project.

That was a slick piece of rug-pulling we did not even feel until we fell—and flat on our face.

We must keep an eye on the Kaysinger ball that has such bouncing potential as that.

It appears that any profit Kaysinger may provide Sedalia will come only by our competitive alertness, initiative and aggressiveness because it is highly unlikely economic benefits from that southerly direction will be served up to us on a silver platter. GHS

We Like Us, As Is

What are the heavy thinkers trying to do to us?

A chemist is suggesting that we ought to be learning while we sleep by "utilizing the subconscious."

Scientists have come up with a scheme to attach little motors to a man and thus endow him with increased muscular power so he may be able to lift more and work harder.

Doctors are forecasting that a new mir-

Internal Combustion Rocks GOP

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—Despite all the elephant trumpeting for unity, the Republican party has been rocked with recriminations since Sen. Barry Goldwater's squeak victory in the California primary.

Here is a rundown on the fussin' and feudin' that has been going on in the smoke-filled back rooms of Republican politics:

1 — At the Governors' conference, several GOP governors growled at New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for refusing to recognize that voters didn't like him and pouring so much money into his own hopeless campaign. His stubborn determination to grab the nomination for himself, they complained, sidelined other moderate leaders.

2 — Rockefeller was equally bitter against ex-Vice President Richard Nixon, Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, and Michigan Gov. George Romney for remaining neutral in the California primary and leaving him to fight alone for the moderate cause. Rockefeller grumbled that they could have stopped Goldwater in California if they hadn't been so coy.

3 — Nixon is glum over his failure to walk the political tightrope. He buttered up Goldwater throughout the Presidential primaries, hoping to fall heir to his delegates. During the California campaign, Nixon sent Goldwater two telegrams and a letter, then phoned him long distance to assure the senator of his neutrality.

Mama Nixon For Goldwater

One who took Nixon at his word was his mother, who happily began campaigning for Goldwater. When Nixon heard about this, he hastily phoned her and persuaded her to catch the first convenient flight to New York for a sudden vacation.

The former Vice President finally tumbled off the tightrope after the Governors' conference and came out against Goldwater in a desperate, last-minute attempt to revive the movement. Goldwater snorted to aides that he was never fooled by Nixon's wooing and cooing.

4 — Ex-President Eisenhower, in his attempt to keep everyone liking him, succeeded in antagonizing most of them.

Moderates Dislike Ike

Other moderate leaders, such as Minnesota's former governor, Elmer Andersen, were sore at Ike for deserting them after they had persuaded him to take a stand on anti-Goldwater principles. They complained ruefully that Ike seems to be influenced by whoever reaches him last.

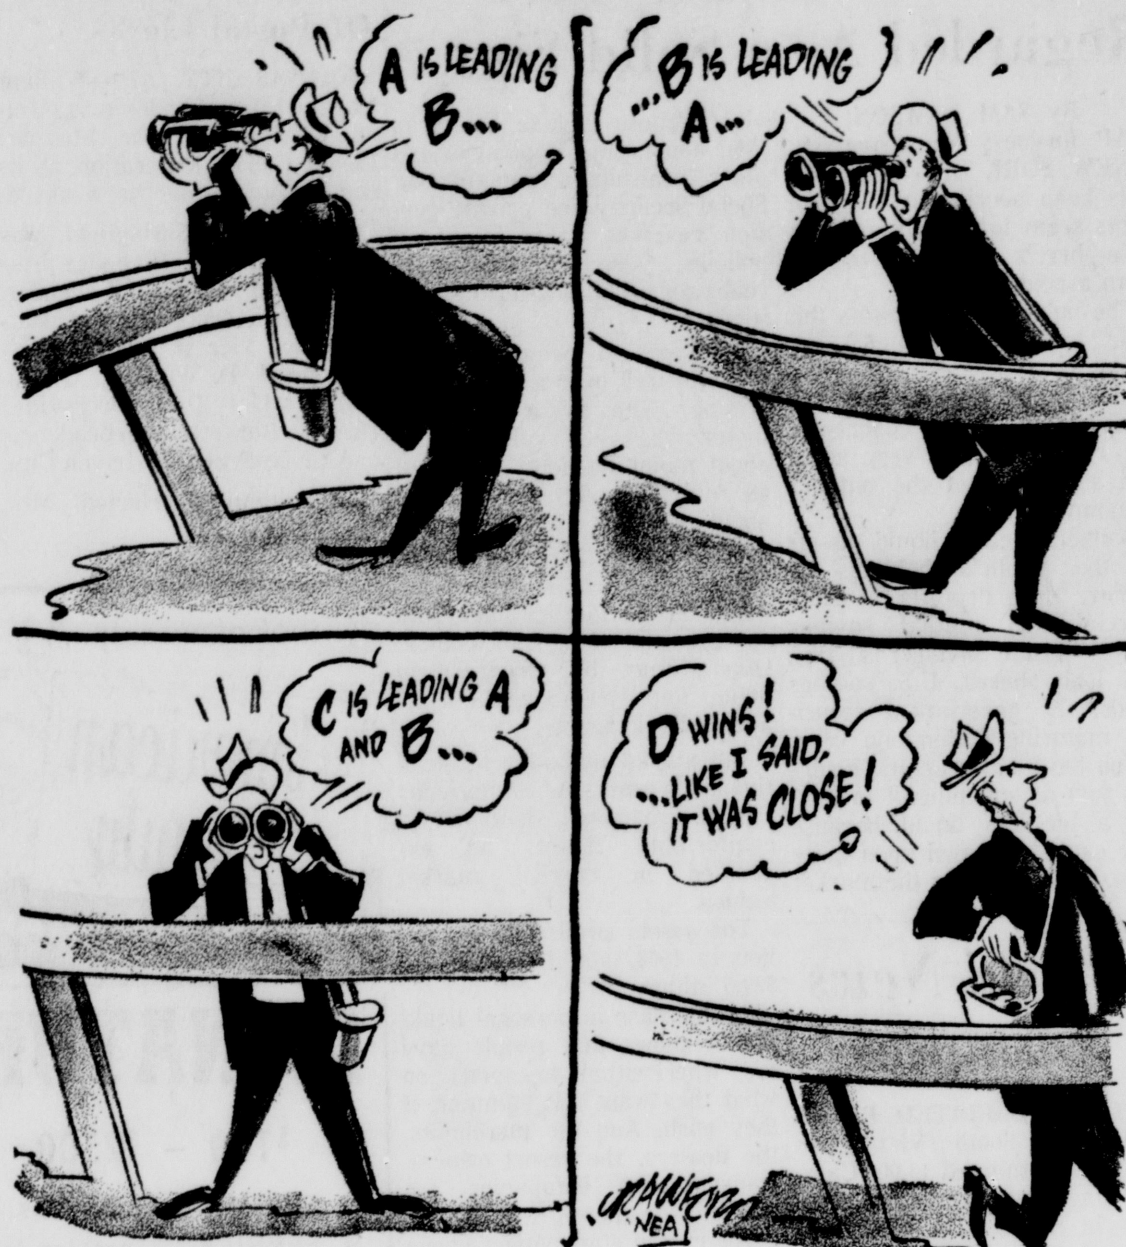

Even Goldwater, who should have been grateful for Ike's change of heart, was scornful over his vacillating. Indeed, Goldwater was feeling his oats as his bandwagon rumbled ever closer to the finish line.

At the Governors' conference, he flatly refused to permit the Republican governors to question him on his beliefs. He also spurned a moderate statement of principles that they sent him to endorse. Instead, he gave them a generalized statement of his views, which had been prepared as a routine hand-out by his staff.

Goldwater also let it be known that he wants the Republican platform to be restricted to a short, general statement. This is exactly opposite of what Rockefeller and Romney have been demanding. They want a lengthy, detailed statement of Republican principles.

It is beginning to look as if Goldwater, in calling for unity, means that the moderates should unify with him.

Scranton Is Like Barry In One Way

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton and the man he is trying to head off for the Republican presidential nomination, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, have one thing in common: they contradict themselves.

So does former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

On June 4 Scranton said he could run for the vice presidency on the ticket with Goldwater and said he did not know of "any extremely basic differences" between them.

He said: "Both of us believe in a strong foreign policy... in the government's actions being strong on the local level, then on the state, and finally on the federal level."

"There are comparatively little differences between various Republican leaders."

He added he didn't know precisely Goldwater's views on civil rights although why not is hard to explain. Goldwater has talked plenty about them.

Up to this time Scranton had said he was not a presidential candidate, would be willing to be drafted, but wasn't stirred up enough about the issues although in almost the very next sentence he said he was stirred up about foreign problems and our "lack of leadership."

Then on June 12 he switched, announced his candidacy for the presidency, said he had said many times he was not interested in the vice presidency, and called Goldwater's views a "weird parody" on Republican beliefs. He listed a number of differences between him and Goldwater.

He went on to accuse Goldwater — without mentioning his name — of spreading "havoc" and complained that a "small but vocal minority too often has made our party sound naive, irresponsible, reactionary and heartless."

But after this he was asked: if Goldwater got the nomination, would he support him. He said he would do everything in his power, no matter who is nominated, "to see that we have a united party."

Nowhere has he precisely spelled out where he disagrees with Goldwater except now he says one of the factors which induced him to become a candidate was Goldwater's vote last week against ending the filibuster against the civil rights bill, a position Goldwater had long said he would take.

Yet since June 4, when Scranton said he could be Goldwater's running mate and saw no basic differences between them, Goldwater has neither said nor done anything that he hadn't said or done before June 4.

Meanwhile, Goldwater, who has created an image of himself as a go-get-tem man "with rolled up sleeves," Sunday refused an invitation to debate the issues with Scranton and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Goldwater, a free enterprise man, said they could go get their own audience. Through all this, and before, Nixon had been performing.

In the past two years Nixon said he was finished with public office and would not even let himself be drafted for the presidency, then said he would accept the nomination. He tried to stir up opposition to Goldwater but said he wasn't trying to stop the Arizonan, called Scranton a "puppet," said he wasn't a puppet, said Scranton had given a "weak" and "vacillating" and "bad impression" on television but changed to say he looks strong and wound up by saying he wasn't criticizing Scranton but was only trying to analyze his problems.

Near-Perfect Accuracy In Pregnancy Tests

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Scientists have long searched for tests that will accurately determine whether or not a woman is pregnant. Tests that used frogs, rabbits and other animals were fairly accurate, but were expensive and required several days to perform.

We now have a number of greatly improved tests all based on a serologic reaction between three ingredients: sheep's red blood cells that have been treated with an extract of human placenta, blood serum that contains antibodies against this extract and the freshly voided urine of the woman who suspects that she is pregnant. The different tests vary only in minor details.

In some cases, the test indicates pregnancy as early as four days after the skipped menstrual period. The tests are performed with controls that compare the reaction of the suspect's urine with that of urine from known pregnant and non-pregnant women. The results are said to be 95 to 100 per cent accurate.

In addition to greater accuracy than was possible with the older tests, the new tests have the advantage that they can be set up in a few minutes and the results can be read in two hours or less.

Another difference is that, whereas inaccuracies in the older tests were sometimes reporting pregnancy when pregnancy did not exist, the new test sometimes reports negative results early in the course of a pregnancy. Results were improved when at least 30 days had elapsed since the skipped period.

Another entirely different type of test, which is said to be 98 per cent accurate, has been devised. When a woman suspects she might be pregnant, she takes one tablet of medroxyprogesterone, a hormone derived from the ovaries, every day for five days. If she is not pregnant and there is no other cause for her skipped period, the normal menstrual cycle will be resumed within two to seven days after this treatment. Although the results cannot be judged as quickly with the test as with the serologic tests described, this test has the advantage of correcting many minor conditions that cause temporary cessation of menstruation.

School and You

Verbal Apples for Teacher

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

To paraphrase the title of a recent popular musical, many students would like to know how to succeed in school without really trying.

Of course, there is no magic potion that will make a teacher put an A on a D paper—but a bit of sincere "apple polishing" may make the difference between a B plus and an A minus. It might play an indirect part in a student's selection for such organizations as the National Honor Society.

Nobody wants to be known as a "teacher's pet." Any student, however, who goes out of his way to be friendly with his teachers is smart in the ways of the school world. Most teachers prefer warm interest to cold brilliance.

The ability to build and sustain good personal relationships with teachers begins early. The kindergarten whose little face beams as he shyly gives an apple to the teacher is taking an important forward step in human relations. In spite of limitations in his communication skills, he is effectively saying, "I like you." Later on he will learn to bring "verbal apples."

A student's ability to put himself in the teacher's shoes in an unspoken identification is perhaps the highest quality of "apple polishing." If he can convey sympathetic understanding without having to spell it out, he will have some of the magic appeal of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. Teachers will just naturally respond to the tune he pipes.

Teachers also appreciate flattering compliments—as long as the sentiments expressed are basically sincere and not over-emphasized.

A cheerful "Good morning, Miss Brown," and "Good night, Mr. Smith" should be standard etiquette for every student, from first grade up. It's surprising how many fail to meet even this minimum friendliness requirement.

Staying after class for a few minutes to pursue an interesting discussion, offering the teacher a ride home from school, volunteering to do extra work will all help a student to be popular with his teachers.

Treating teachers as likeable people offers so much for so little. Isn't it worth a try?

and the beauty of this little town on the plains in northeastern Colorado. Irrigation brought water to the small grain farms and sugar beet fields. Trees had grown to maturity since they were planted during pioneer days. The reservoir channeled water from mountain snows, providing fishing and boating. Hunting deer and antelope in season has become a popular sport.

A temporary oil boom gave the town an economic spurt but the population has remained stable and prosperous. The town has no civil rights problem, no poverty problem. Most of the homes are brick one story houses, with beautiful lawns, gardens and trees. People play golf, bridge, go fishing and travel. Many have cabins in the mountains.

The women work in the hospital, raise funds for charity and churches, taxi their children and on the whole live busy, satisfying lives.

Being a shopping and produce center for northeastern Colorado and sections of Nebraska, Sterling is served by the Union Pacific and Burlington railroads.

The old Logan County High is now a junior high. There are four new schools including a Junior College. The class of 1914 had a thrilling reunion and was able to disprove the oft stated remark:

They did come home and they liked it.

Garden Disease Prevention
Growing vegetables is not all "milk and honey" so to speak. Problems do creep in. One problem that has started and will continue in varying degrees of intensity all through the season is plant diseases.

A typical gardener's experience with disease may go something like this. Plants look healthy, seem to be growing nicely, may have set fruit, or are approaching maturity. All of a sudden, plants start to yellow, wilt, turn brown and quit growing or even die!

What was obviously a healthy, growing plant, has been overcome by, to us, an "invisible" creature. We first want to know what caused the damage to the plant, and then we want to know how to control it.

Most vegetable diseases can be identified, but we may need to wait for a specific stage of development of the disease organism before we can definitely determine what is causing the problem. Once identified there is little that can be done to control the disease on the particular crop affected.

So disease control actually becomes a matter of disease prevention. You've heard the saying, "Close the door before the horse is gone!" With vegetable diseases you have to "Close the door before the organism enters!" In either case, prevention is the cure!

Because there are so many different kinds of vegetable diseases, and diseases are usually specific for each vegetable or family of vegetables, we have prepared an MU Guide, 6202, Vegetable Disease Prevention in Home Gardens. This guide will help you identify vegetable diseases and suggests methods of prevention.

The guide is divided into two parts: Part I describes the more common diseases of garden vegetables and suggests best methods of prevention. Part II lists the most useful and practical methods of disease prevention.

Copies of this Guide can be obtained from your county University extension center office or by writing to Mailing Room, Waters Hall, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo. Ask for MU Guide 6202.

Now for some specific examples of how disease prevention can work for you.

Fusarium wilt of tomatoes is perhaps the most serious disease of this crop. The organism is a fungus and will live in your soil for many years, once introduced. Control? None! When your tomato plant starts to show wilt symptoms it is too late to do anything.

You could have prevented this problem by purchasing a wilt resistant variety. There are many on the market today. The University of Missouri has introduced four wilt-resistant tomato varieties — Surprise, Supreme, Tomboy, and Avalanche.

More and more plant growers and seed companies offer these wilt resistant varieties and hybrids. But only you can make that final decision.

Let's look at another example of the importance of disease prevention. Again let's use the tomato, since most everyone grows this vegetable. The lower leaves of many tomato plants will begin to show some brown spots that have concentric rings — a target-like effect — with varying degrees of yellowing surrounding the spots.

This is early blight, another fungus disease that in this case, attacks the foliage. Now what happens when a portion of the foliage of the plant becomes non-functional? It's simple! Your yields and quality will be reduced in direct proportion to the amount of damaged foliage!

Control? None! Prevention? Yes! Use a foliar fungicide. One of the best are zineb and maneb. Applied thoroughly to the plant, according to directions on label; they provide a barrier and prevent the entry of the fungus.

Lawn Problems
Lawns are receiving a lot of attention now. Crabgrass should be showing up.

If a pre-emergence treatment for crabgrass was not used, seedlings may be evident in the lawn by this time. This seedling or young plant stage is readily controlled with spray or dry formulations of disodium methylarsenate and related arsenates. These herbicides are sold under various trade names and must be used according to the directions found on the container for good results.

Any suspicious discoloration or browning of grass in circular or irregular patches may indicate that a disease or insect is injuring the lawn. Most insects found in lawns can be controlled with chlordane or dieldrin, used according to directions on the label. Common Kentucky bluegrass is prey to several diseases and no single chemical can cure all of them. Ask at the University Extension Center for helpful information on diagnosis and recommendations for control.

Water-soluble pest control chemicals can be easily and quickly applied with a hose-end applicator on the garden hose.

This is the wettest month during the average season. There is a good chance of having generous rains even if the first part of the month was exceptionally dry. One good watering when the grass starts to wilt frequently will keep the lawn growing well into July. Normally July and August are dry months and bluegrass goes dormant when the soil becomes hot and dry.

Summer fertilization of bluegrass is not recommended because it may encourage lawn diseases and stimulate crabgrass growth.

Post-Emergence Sprays
For Corn and Sorghum

Most of our corn and sorghum fields are past the stage where we can apply pre-emergence weed control materials, but if your corn or sorghum has broad leaved weeds or weed grasses in the row, post-emergence sprays can still help out. Weeds and grasses are becoming a big problem due to the wet weather.

Since there is some difference in materials that can be used on these two crops, let us consider them separately.

Where broad leaved weeds are the main problem, corn can be sprayed with 1/4 - 1/2 pound 2,4-D acid equivalent per acre. An ester form can be used at the 1/4 pound rate but an amine form at 1/2 pound is less likely to damage the corn. This treatment will give excellent broad-leaved weed control but will not control grasses. As a matter of fact, the grass may grow better because of less competition.

Atrazine can be sprayed on weeds and grasses up to one and a half inches in height with very good changes of control of both for the rest of the season. Two to three pounds per acre of the actual material is required and an over-all spray is rather expensive. Atrazine will not hurt the corn in any way. If a band spray is used, the middle will have to be cultivated out.

VISITOR'S ROLE—Premier Khrushchev, of land of hammer and sickle, cuts wheat during visit to once barren area of Egypt which was made productive by irrigation.

Lorox can be used as a post-emergence spray to control both grasses and weeds. However, Lorox sprayed directly on the corn leaves will damage the corn sometimes seriously.

Therefore, a directed spray with special equipment is necessary. You will need to discuss this special equipment with your dealer or your County Extension Agent. We would consider that the main place for such a Lorox treatment is where you are in real trouble with grass in the row that cannot be controlled otherwise. The corn will need to be from 12-18 inches high when sprayed with Lorox. It can be used, however, on broad leaved weeds and grasses up to 8 inches in height and give full season control.

Sorghum will tolerate 2,4-D nearly as well as corn, and you use the same rates as for corn. Sorghum is most tolerant to 2,4-D when from about 4-20 inches in height. As with corn, 2,4-D has full clearance for use on sorghum.

Atrazine can also be used on sorghum as an early post-emergence treatment that will control grass as well as broad-leaved weeds. We would suggest trial use at two pounds an acre of active material this year, sprayed on when the sorghum is from one and one-half inches to four inches tall, and the weeds no more than one and one-half inches tall. This should give full season weed control, but has clearance for grain production only, and clearances restrict the use of the field to corn or sorghum for the next 18 months after application. In addition, be sure to check the labels carefully on any weed control materials you do use, so that you will be certain that you are using them safely.

To control broadleaved weeds or grass in crops already up we have discussed using 2,4-D, Atrazine and Lorox in corn and 2,4-D and Atrazine in sorghums.

Atrazine Precautions

Many farmers are using Atrazine for weed control in corn. After a high incidence of damage to soybeans following corn treated with Atrazine, farmers are asking what precautions they should take to prevent damage to soybeans the following year.

University of Missouri Field Crops Specialist Ross Fleetwood

advises Atrazine users to hold application rates to the minimum required. You should make a special effort to get uniform coverage of the area sprayed... and use a wettable powder rather than the granular form. Finally, plow the land and work thoroughly to distribute the Atrazine residue throughout the soil ahead of planting the beans.

High Protein Ration
Will feeding a high protein ration to a sow and her pigs cause baby pig scours?

Extension Livestock Specialist Melvin Bradley says no. Scouring is usually caused by bacterial organisms in baby pigs. It is most common where pigs are grouped in large numbers... such as continued use of a central farrowing house. Pigs may not scour as much when they have little or no feed intake. This is what usually happens when the protein is removed or drastically cut back in the ration. For this reason... protein is often blamed for scours in pigs when the actual cause is not the level of protein in the ration at all. As a matter of fact... healthy pigs can tolerate a very high percentage of protein in the ration with no ill effects.

High Bacteria Count in Milk
What factors can cause high bacterial count in milk.

Extension Dairyman Fred Meinershagen says there are two important factors that cause high bacterial counts in milk. They are lack of cleanliness and sanitation... and poor cooling of the milk.

The first step is to keep the milk clean. Lack of cleanliness may result from a number of things. First, dirt can fall into the milk from cows that have not been well cleaned before milking, carrying with it great numbers of bacteria. Second, utensils and equipment that have not been well cleaned and sanitized since last used for milk may contain many bacteria. Thirdly, dirt may cause contamination by blowing or falling into the milk.

After milk is produced as bacteria-free as possible... the next thing is to prevent bacterial growth by quick cooling and keeping it cool until it reaches the processing plant. With modern bulk tank coolers it is possible to cool the milk quickly to below 40 degrees Fahrenheit which practically stops all bacterial growth.

It costs the U.S. Treasury about one cent to print a bill of any denomination.

Four Benton Farmers In Corn Event

Four Benton County farmers are among the early entries in the 16th annual corn growing contest sponsored by the Missouri Farmers Association.

Last year Arthur Hagen, Cole Camp, averaged 153.1 bushels an acre with 19,233 stalks to the acre. This year he has jumped his planting rate to 22,000 stalks to the acre. His contest field was planted on May 5 and the variety is 3232. He applied a soil insecticide, Aldrin, with his starter fertilizer. The field was limed in 1963 at the rate of 5 tons per acre. He plowed down 750 pounds of 20-10-14 per acre and put 150 pounds of grain starter in the row at time of planting.

Herman Eckhoff, Route 3, Cole Camp, averaged 136.13 bushels per acre with an average of 13,800 stalks. His field this year was planted on May 5 and the planting rate was increased to 17,000 stalks per acre. The variety is 3232. The field received lime and rock phosphate in 1961. For a fertilizer treatment this year Eckhoff plowed down 330 pounds of 24-10-10 and put on 125 pounds of grain starter in the row per acre at time of planting.

Oscar A. Heimsoth, Route 3, Cole Camp, planted his contest field on May 15 at the rate of 15,000 stalks to the acre. The variety is 3232. He used a soil insecticide, Aldrin, with his starter fertilizer and applied 2,4-D granules for a herbicide treatment. He plowed down 300 pounds of 0-25-25 per acre. At time of planting he put on 150 pounds of a grain starter fertilizer and he intends to side dress with 120 pounds of anhydrous ammonia. Last year Heimsoth averaged 126.6 bushels an acre on his contest field.

C. C. Gerken, Jr., Mora, was not in last year's contest. His field was planted on May 9 at the rate of 21,000 stalks per acre. The variety is 3232. The field received 1,000 pounds of rock phosphate in 1962. This year he plowed down 820 pounds of 22-11-13 per acre. He expects to side dress crop with 80 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre.

Ethel Dons Yellow For Her Wedding

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This year's most famous June bride will be wearing yellow.

That's the color of the wedding gown Ethel Merman has chosen for her June 26 wedding to Ernest Borgnine. The union of the Broadway song belter and the onetime lovelorn Marty, now skipper of "McHale's Navy," is shaping up as one of Hollywood's most notable weddings in years.

The Merm was discussing plans on the set of "The Art of Love," in which she wears six complete outfits of varying hues, including wigs of green, blue, orange, etc. She plays the part of the proprietress of a Parisian body shop; in other words, this is one time she can say "Call Me Madam" and mean it.

"I came out here May 20 to get married, and then this picture came up," she explained. "Ernie said it was too good a part to pass up, so I went ahead. But now I hardly have a minute to take care of the wedding, and what details!"

Fortunately, she already had arranged for her gown in New York.

The bride-to-be also mentioned that the wedding will take place in the garden of Ernie's Beverly Hills home with a reception following at Chasen's. What started as an intimate ceremony has expanded, as with most weddings, the latest count being 200. All of Ernie's McHale's Navy crew are invited — "I know, because I addressed all the envelopes," said Ethel.

Her mother and father are

Rolf, Dale Corder, B. R. Lewis and Tom Schick.

Those attending are requested to bring a picnic supper and table service. Drinks will be furnished.

The reunion will start at 5:30 p. m. Saturday in the dining room on the first floor of the Old Missouri Homestead for an hour's get-together before the 6:30 p. m. smorgasbord dinner. A short program will follow the dinner. There will be a roll call of members, and introduction of husbands and wives. A picture will be taken of class members and at 9 p.m. an orchestra plays for dancing.

Sunday there will be a "Punch Party" at Smith-Cotton Cafeteria from 1 to 3 p. m. This will afford more opportunity for visiting and those who would like to bring their children to this party may do so. Refreshments will be served and a tour will be taken of all new facilities of the school.

All class members attending the reunion will receive a reproduction of the 1939 annual and prizes will be awarded the members traveling the longest distance to attend, etc., and letters telling of what each has been doing since graduation along with snapshots of their families.

St. Louis Support For Warren Hearnese

The heavily Democratic and populous 27th Ward, Democratic organization of St. Louis City, has thrown its support behind the candidacy of Secretary of State, Warren E. Hearnes, for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Frank J. Endraske, committeeman, and Mrs. Margaret Walsh, committeewoman, announced the endorsement.

Giving their support, Endraske and Mrs. Walsh said that two factors contributed heavily to their organization's decision to support Hearnes. "First, Hearnes is the only Democratic candidate who has announced any progressive concern for the problems of metropolitan Missouri, especially St. Louis City. His interest in a State Department of Urban Affairs tells us more than any other one thing that Hearnes is not only interested in our problems but is willing to do something about them."

NL Roundup

Houston Downs St. Louis; Philadelphia Takes Mets

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston's Dick Farrell pitched with a gun at his back. The gun's name is Nellie Fox.

Farrell, who figures the scrappy Fox is the latest weapon in his well-stocked pitching arsenal, became the first 10-game winner in the major leagues Sunday night as he scattered eight hits in a 4-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

A converted reliever acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers for the premier $125,000 price tag in the National League expansion draft, Farrell is in his third and most productive season as a starter. And that's where Fox, acquired from the Chicago White Sox, enters the picture.

"He keeps me bearing down," said the 30-year-old right-hander. "He is always on my back."

Farrell had a 10-20 record for the Colts in 1962 and was 14-13 last year. But with the helpful intimidation of the little second baseman he has reached the first plateau en route to a 20-victory season with the best record in the majors.

Farrell's latest triumph was his seventh in a row and opening 10-1. It also extended the Cardinals' skid. St. Louis now has lost four straight and 18 of its last 24 while falling into eighth place, 6½ games behind National League leading Philadelphia.

The Phillies swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 9-5 and 4-2, boosting their lead over second-place San Francisco to one-half game. The Giants' rode homers by Orlando Cepeda and Jim Hart to an 8-2 victory over Cincinnati.

Elsewhere in the NL, Milwaukee swept a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Dodgers by identical 5-1 scores and the Chicago Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 5-2. The second game of the Cubs-Pirates doubleheader was rained out.

Farrell struck out nine and walked two, allowing the Cardinals' only run in the sixth when Bill White tripled and Ken Boyer singled. Al Spangler provided the runs Farrell needed with two sacrifice flies, the last capping a three-run fifth inning uprising that put it away against Bob Gibson, 5-1.

John Briggs, starting his first major league game because of a leg injury to Wes Covington, produced the fireworks for the Phillies in the opener. Briggs singled twice, slammed a double, drove in two runs and scored twice, riding home on Richie Allen's 13th homer in the fourth.

John Callison took over against the Mets in the nightcap, driving in three runs with a homer and double. Art Mahaffey got the nightcap victory with Ed Roebuck's relief help after Ray Culp posted his first victory since April 26 in the opener.

Cepeda and Hart, who drove in three runs, hit consecutive homers against Reds starter Jim O'Toole, 5-3, in third inning. Willie Mays also figured heavily in the attack with a single, double, triple and three runs scored. Ron Herbel, 4-2, got the victory with an eight-hitter.

The Braves unloaded 11 extra-base hits—including the 350th homer of Hank Aaron's major league career—and became the first team in two years to sweep a doubleheader against the Dodgers in Los Angeles.

Aaron, Felipe Alou and Denis Menke homered in the opener while Tony Cloninger, 5-5, pitched a five-hitter. Gene Oliver slammed a bases-empty homer and a run-producing double in the nightcap while Bob Sadowski, Dan Schneider and Denny Lemaster combined to check the Dodgers on seven hits.

Billy Cowan and Lou Brock slammed two-run homers as the Cubs whipped the Pirates. Dick Ellsworth, 8-5, had a four-hit shutout until the ninth when Gene Freese accounted for the Pittsburgh runs with a two-run homer.

Name Holmes Assistant On Big 8 Staff

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Alan M. (Mickey) Holmes of Grinnell College was appointed administrative assistant on the Big Eight Conference staff today.

Wayne Duke, executive director, said Holmes will join the staff July 28. He will have the task of organizing and developing a conference service and news bureau as well as general administrative duties.

Holmes, 26, has been sports information director at Grinnell College for four years. In addition, for the past two years he has been director of the college's news service and has been sports information director for the 10-member Midwest Collegiate Athletic Conference.

He also was acting commissioner of the conference during the 1963-64 term. He served as secretary for the athletic directors' association of the conference two years.

A native of Maynard, Iowa, Holmes graduated from the State University of Iowa in 1960. He is married to the former Judith Adrian, also of Maynard, and the couple has a 2-year-old daughter, Ellen.

The appointment completes the reorganization and expansion of the Big Eight staff authorized a year ago when Duke was named to succeed Reaves Peters as executive director. Besides Duke and Holmes, the staff includes John Waldorf, part time supervisor of officials; Mrs. E. W. Atterbury and Miss Carolyn Miller.

In Fourth Place

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Jud Larson, Kansas City, Mo., finished fourth Sunday in the 30-lap feature sprint car race at the Vigo County Fairgrounds.

Winner of the race was A. J. Foyt, victor of this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race. Foyt led from the pole position and nearly lapped the entire field.

Hansen Not Warmed Up In Tryouts

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Fred Hansen, the slim, record-cracking vaulter from Texas, was almost eliminated at the new common 16-foot mark at pre-Olympics tryouts.

"I just wasn't warmed up enough for the early jumps and wasn't rocking back (on the fiber glass pole) like I should," said Hansen.

He went on to clear 17 feet, 2 inches, an unofficial world record, at the invitational meet here Saturday night. But previously he missed the 16-foot qualifying mark twice, finally clearing it on his final try after seven others had made it.

"I felt that I could break the record again, once I got going," the 6-foot, 168-pound Texan said later. "I felt good, the conditions were good and the competition was good."

Hansen, 23, a pre-dental student at Rice University, soared 17-1 last week at Houston to better John Pennel's pending world mark of 17-¼.

Pennel of Miami, Fla., the only other vaulter ever to clear 17 feet, was Hansen's fiercest competitor Saturday night.

The bar was raised to 17-2 by mutual consent of Hansen and Pennel after two others, Mel Hein Jr. and Ron Meyers, were eliminated at 16-8½. They cleared 16-5.

Pennel, formerly of Northwest Louisiana State, narrowly evaded serious injury when he failed in his second try at 17-2. He missed the foam rubber cushion and suffered a bruised lung, according to hospital officials.

AL Roundup

New York Takes Chisox; Baltimore Wallops Boston

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

"We have been going good, and we are going to get better," said Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox shortly before his American League leadership started a five-game series with the New York Yankees.

The White Sox now are in second place.

The Yankees took care of that, using just 50 hours for a sweep of the series. They completed the annihilation Sunday, taking a doubleheader 8-3 and 4-3 in 10 innings.

The double loss coupled with Baltimore's two victories over Boston put the Orioles on top, one game and 10 percentage points ahead of the White Sox, who have dropped six straight.

The third-place Yankees moved four percentage points behind Chicago, holding a seven game winning streak, longest in the majors this season.

The rampaging Yankees rendered the White Sox attack so ineffective it might take Lopez the rest of the year to find it. Chicago managed only 28 hits in the series and scored only 10 runs.

The White Sox came close to averting the sweep but couldn't hold off New York in the ninth inning of Sunday's nightcap. Trailing 3-1, the Yankees scored twice with the aid of shortstop Ron Hansen's error, then won it in the 10th on Joe Pepitone's run-scoring single.

Another highlight of the five-doubleheader day was the 30 home runs that were hit in the league. That tied the major league record set June 10, 1962.

Minnesota's power-laden Twins led the onslaught in their 6-5 and 9-2 victories over Washington. The Orioles clobbered the Red Sox 10-1 and 8-1, Kansas City edged Cleveland 6-5 in 10 innings and 3-2 and Detroit squeezed by Los Angeles 6-5 and 6-4.

Juan Pizarro suffered his third loss in 10 decisions in the opener. Howard and Phil Linz rocked him for two-run homers in the second. Linz added a solo homer in the eighth.

Baltimore moved into first place behind the five-hit pitching of Chuck Estrada and Dick Hall in the nightcap. Estrada pitched the first five innings, enough for his first victory since May 21, 1963. Jerry Adair drove in two runs for the Orioles, giving him five for the day.

Brooks Robinson and Luis Aparicio each lashed four hits in the opener. Robinson hit a home run, a triple and two singles while Aparicio collected a triple and three singles and stole three bases.

Davis Cup Lineups

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Great Britain vs. France and Sweden vs. West Germany.

That's the line-up for next month's play in the semifinals of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis competition after a weekend that saw France overcome 2-0 deficit to defeat South Africa 3-2, Britain edge Yugoslavia 3-2, West Germany down Denmark 4-1 and Sweden turn back Italy 3-1 with the final match canceled because of rain.

The Twins' Harmon Killebrew pounded three homers, giving him 20 for the season. He hit two in the first game while Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles added one each. Fred Valentine homered with two aboard for the Senators.

Minnesota also clouted four homers in the nightcap, including Allison's 15th. The Twins' Johnny Goryl was thrown out of the game in the sixth after charging and punching pitcher Jim Duckworth who hit him with a pitch. Duckworth was fined $50.

Home runs decided both of the games between the Athletics and the Indians. Jim Gentile who previously knocked in three runs, connected in the 10th inning of the opener while Dick Green hammered a two-run homer in the seventh for the second-game triumph.

John Romano's homer had given the Indians a brief 2-1 lead in the sixth.

The Tigers won the second game on Don Demeter's two-run double in the four-run seventh. The blow came off reliever Bob Lee, who also was the victim of Dick McAuliffe's eighth-inning homer which won the opener.

Jimmy Piersall, Bobby Knoop and Joe Adcock homered for the Angels in the first game.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—West Liberty State of West Virginia was beaten in the first game of the NAIA baseball tournament last week but fought back and walked off with the championship.

It was the biggest upset in the eight-year history of the tourney.

West Liberty defeated Grambling College of Louisiana twice Saturday night, 6-4 and 3-2, to claim the title.

The West Virginians lost 2-1 to Wartburg of Iowa in the 16-inning opener of the double elimination event, then marched through the losers' bracket to the finals, downing defending champion Sam Houston State and Georgia Southern, the 1962 champion.

Frank Ujcich, West Liberty pitcher, was named most valuable player of the tournament after setting a record of 22 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings.

A's Take Two Games From Indians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Athletics swept both ends of a double-header from Cleveland Sunday, defeating the Indians 6-5 in a 10-inning opener and 3-2 in the nightcap.

St. Louis had only a single game and fell victim to Houston's Dick Farrell as he pitched the Colts to a 4-1 victory over the Cards. It was the 10th victory of the season for Farrell, the first 10-game winner in the major leagues this season. He has lost only once.

The Cardinals scored their lone run in the sixth on Bill White's triple and a single by Ken Boyer.

Houston scored in the first on Al Spangler's sacrifice fly and wrapped it up in the fifth on a double, a single, a bases loaded walk and another sacrifice fly by Spangler. The loss was charged to Bob Gibson.

Wayne Causey singled home a run in the ninth to tie the A's and Indians at 5-all in the first game. Then, Gentile hit his 13th homer of the season to win it in the 10th. The victory went to John Wyatt in relief.

Wyatt pitched the last two innings, allowed only one hit and struck out two in posting his fourth decision against three losses, all in relief.

Two singles, a wild pitch and a sacrifice gave the A's their first score in the nightcap and Dick Green's two-run homer in the seventh provided the margin of victory.

Again, it was Wyatt in the nightcap who preserved the victory. He replaced John O'Donoghue with one out and one on in the ninth.

Wyatt gave up one hit but then retired the next two men on strikeouts. O'Donoghue received credit for the victory, his third against four losses.

Kansas City is idle today while the Cards, now in eighth place in the National League and 6½ games behind league leading Philadelphia, call on Glen Hobbie to end their losing streak. He will face the Colts' Don Nottebart in Houston.

Bait Cast Record Set By Willson

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A world's bait casting record was set here Sunday by Jack Willson Jr., of Berkeley, Mo.

Willson cast a five-eighths ounce plug 505 feet at the Great Lakes Casting Tournament. The previous record was 487 feet.

Willson, representing the Ferguson Casting Club of St. Louis, was named all around tournament champion. He made a tourney grand slam by winning all the accuracy bait, the all accuracy fly, the all distance bait and fly, the accuracy bait and fly, and the all around accuracy event.

Hail Richey As Net Star Of US Team

LONDON (AP)—Nancy Richey, 21-year-old tennis star from Dallas, Tex., was hailed today as the star of America's victorious Wightman Cup team and a serious contender for the Wimbledon title.

The American girls won the cup for the fourth straight year with a 5-2 margin over Britain at Wimbledon.

The meet ended Sunday after rain had postponed the final matches originally scheduled Saturday.

Miss Richey scored the only straight sets victory in defeating Mrs. Ann Jones, the British No. 1 on Saturday, 7-5, 11-9 in the match that decided the series.

Miss Richey was the most talked about player. Her play astonished the critics.

The result of the Wightman Cup left the record of the event looking more one-sided than ever—30 wins to the Americans and six to the British.

Lema Heads For National Golf Tourney

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP)—Tony Lema, more surprised than anybody else over his victory in the $66,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament Sunday, headed today for the National Open at Washington, D.C., hoping that lightning strikes three times in a row.

"I've never done very well in the National Open and I don't have any particular feeling about it this year," said Lema after becoming the first pro in 21 months to put together major victories in successive weeks.

He preceded his Buick Open triumph with victory in the $100,000 Thunderbird at Rye, N.Y. The National Open starts Thursday.

The San Leandro, Calif. native kept his usual custom and ordered champagne in the press room following his victory on the 7,280-yard, par-72 Warwick Hills course.

Lema had a 70 in his final round and finished with an 11-under par 277 to pick up nearly $9,000 in prize money.

His round featured four birdies, one on the first hole, which he solved for the fourth straight round in the tourney. It was the same hole on which he had taken a seven in the open two years ago.

Dow Finsterwald finished with a 71 for a total of 280 and was runner-up here for the second straight year. Bob Charles, the left-handed New Zealander, finished with a 67 to take third place money with a 283.

Lema became the first pro to win two tournaments in a row since Jack Nicklaus won in Seattle and Portland, Ore.

Biggest Home Crowd

CLEVELAND (AP)—The biggest home crowd of the season turned out to watch the Cleveland-Kansas City doubleheader and club officials credited the turnout of 30,013 to bats.

Club promotion men, who have tried a variety of ways to lure fans to the stadium, gave away baseball bats Sunday and it worked. Each child accompanied by a parent got an official Little League bat.

The supply of 10,000 bats ordered by the club was exhausted and around 2,000 boys didn't get one. Management had them fill out tickets and said they would be sent bats as soon as a new supply came in.

The crowd swelled the Indians' overall attendance to 247,396, making an average of 9,125 for each of the 27 home dates.

Cleveland's attendance last season totaled 562,507, the lowest since 1945.

Party to People Forum Headed by Ike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other top Republicans gather today for a "Party to People Forum" designed to guide the GOP platform committee in drafting the foreign policy planks of the party platform at the national convention.

The discussion took on new importance with the entry of Gov. William W. Scranton into the race for the GOP presidential nomination against Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona at the July 13 convention in San Francisco.

Named to serve with Eisenhower on the panel were former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates; former Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota; former Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce; Dr. Robert Strauss-Hupe, director of the University of Pennsylvania's Foreign Policy Research Institute; and Dr. William Kitter, the institute's deputy director.

Scranton and Pennsylvania State Chairman Craig C. Truax claim that only 250 of Goldwater's votes are from legally bound delegates. "There is a certain slippage of feeling for Goldwater," Scranton said.

Replies to a spot check of delegates following Scranton's announcement showed no headlong rush away from Goldwater, however.

There also were a few shifts from previously uncommitted delegates to Scranton's banner, notably four in North Dakota.

Goldwater backers across the nation contended the senator's delegates would stand fast.

The weekend conventions went about as expected. Goldwater gained support ranging from solid to unanimous at state conventions in Idaho, Utah, New Mexico, Virginia and Missouri. He picked off four of Connecticut's 16 and five of Maryland's 20. Scranton appeared before both conventions, winning 12 in Connecticut and four in Maryland.

Only in Minnesota, where forces favoring an uncommitted stand were victorious, did Goldwater fail to win support. Even there he has eight previously elected district delegates.

Texas Votes Expected To Assure Barry

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater is expected to carry 56 delegate votes in Texas Tuesday and, by current count, push past the magic total needed to win the Republican presidential nomination.

But not all of this first ballot strength is irrevocably bound to the Arizona senator, and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania will be hopschotching the country this week, trying to pick off some of the delegates now in the senator's column.

Since Scranton launched his drive for the nomination last Friday, however, he has gained little more than a score of votes—and only one of the delegates who lined up behind the governor was for Goldwater earlier.

The senator's total meanwhile ballooned to 619 by Associated Press tally. He needs 655 for nomination and is favored to win all of the 56 votes to be designated in Texas and most if not all of the 14 to be assigned in Montana Friday and Saturday.

Those two conventions wind up the delegate selection process for the Republican National Convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

The AP survey of the 1,238 delegates already chosen showed this first ballot lineup based on primary election commitments, instructions, pledges and stated preference:

Accidents

Heavy traffic, rain and slick roads contributed to a series of accidents on South U. S. Highway 65, and other area locations, Sunday evening. Thirteen persons were treated at the Bothwell Hospital as a result of the rash of accidents.

Six persons were injured in an accident approximately seven-tenths of a mile south of State Route 52 at Stover about 2 o'clock in a head-on collision. Four of the injured were Sedalians, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Howerton and two children. The other two were Mr. and Mrs. Lisle P. Hites of Prairie Village, Kansas.

About 6:20 o'clock a series of accidents occurred on the hill south of Flat Creek about a half mile, resulting in injuries to three persons, Mrs. Francis Norland, her daughter Peggy, of Raytown and Mrs. Norland's niece Kathy Gulick of Kansas City.

Four persons were hurt in an accident on U. S. Highway 65 just south of Anderson school and near New Bethel Methodist Church.

In the accident near Stover, Elvis E. Howerton, 41, 1524 South Grand, was driving a 1963 Plymouth station wagon and headed south on State Route 135. The other car, a 1964 Ford sedan was being driven north by Lisle P. Hites, 46, of Prairie Village.

According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol, the two cars crashed head-on at the crest of a hill. Both automobiles were demolished.

The injured were brought to Sedalia to Bothwell Hospital in the Scrivner-Stevenson ambulances.

Howerton suffered multiple lacerations of the face, two fractures of the lower jaw, one on each side, fractured right knee cap, fracture of the right forearm, sprained right shoulder, and concussion. His condition was reported serious, but not critical.

Mrs. Meldena Howerton, 39, his wife, suffered lacerations of the face, severe laceration of the upper portion of the right arm, cuts on both elbows, sprain of the neck and concussion. Condition satisfactory.

Cary J. Howerton, 8-year-old son, fracture of the left collar bone. His sister, Valerie Howerton, six, fracture of the lower jaw in two places, one on each side.

Dr. Karl B. Gonser attended Howerton while Dr. Joseph W. Maunders attended Mrs. Howerton and the two children. All but Cary were admitted to the hospital.

Hites suffered a fracture of the right elbow and painful bruises of the chest. He was attended by Dr. Elliott Braverman.

Mrs. Hites, 47, suffered internal injuries, several bruises of the chest and forehead. She underwent a major operation immediately with Dr. J. E. Lamy operating. Her condition was reported as critical.

A car and trailer with a boat were blamed for creating a series of accidents on the Flat Creek Hill about 6:20 o'clock when it slowed down to turn onto a private lane to a new addition. Traffic was heavy on the highway at the time, and it resulted in several accidents, some of which were reported serious, others resulted in slight bumper damages.

Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle of the State Patrol recorded the accidents according to information he received from persons involved.

The second car behind the car-trailer was a 1960 Pontiac sedan driven by Robert Henry Lichtenauer, 45, of Shawnee, Kan., the car immediately following was a 1964 Pontiac hard-top coach driven by Paul Frederick Zimmer, 39, of Kansas City, Kan. As Zimmer tried to stop his car it went into a side skid and a 1946 Chevrolet coach driven by Curtis Earl Miller, 24, of Route 2, Windsor, struck the left rear fender of the Pontiac, thus causing the Pontiac to straighten up and crash into the rear of Lichtenauer's car.

Fortunately no injuries resulted from this three-car collision.

Sgt. Van Winkle said that due to this accident, which was north and down hill from the crest, and a heavy line of traffic, a series of mishaps began to occur. First a 1960 Plymouth sedan, driven by Harold Seymour Watson, 26, of Independence, went into a spin as he applied his brakes and his car went skidding backwards off the highway and off the shoulder on the west side of the road. No one was injured, nor was the car damaged. Next a 1962 Chevrolet, driven by William Blum, 31, of Kansas City, spun around and skidded down the center of the highway, luckily missing other vehicles, and he stopped in time to back into a private driveway.

Then a 1960 Volkswagen, driven by Steven Powell, 19, of Mission, Kan., skidded but succeeded in stopping on the east shoulder of the highway. Wayne Francis Norland, 45, driving a 1953 Chrysler topped the crest of the hill and seeing other cars sliding and the accident ahead, chose to go into a ditch rather than crashing into cars ahead. One of the cars ahead which was not involved in any of the mishaps had his wife's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Holace Gulick, Kansas City, in it.

The Norland car on going onto the soft shoulder flipped over on its top in a ditch as the car nosed into an embankment. The top of the car was smashed down on the occupants injuring Norland's wife, his daughter and niece.

Mrs. Norland, 44, suffered a compressed fracture of the first lumbar of the spine, bruised left hand; her daughter, Peggy Norland, 14, suffered a fracture of the 11th dorsal of the spine and bruises; the niece, Kathy Gulick, received a painful bruise on the left shoulder.

The injured were taken to the hospital in an ambulance from McLaughlin's and one from Ewings. Dr. Karl B. Gonser treated Mrs. Norland, her daughter and niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Gulick said they saw the three-car accident, and Mrs. Gulick reported she looked back in time to see the car of her sister and husband overturn.

After emergency treatment, Mrs. Norland and her daughter were taken in the McLaughlin ambulance to the Independence Sanitarium, Independence, Mo.

Because of the wreck on the Flat Creek Hill traffic for a time was backed up to the south as far as Anderson school and to the north past Flat Creek Inn.

Because of the sudden stops being made, it was reported several cars collided bumper-to-bumper, and while some reported some damage, it was not serious enough the car owners desired to stop for a report. How many such mishaps occurred was not known.

It was while workmen and wreckers were clearing up the accident on Flat Creek Hill, and traffic was moving slowly as it was flagged past, the accident occurred near the Anderson school involving three vehicles. This was about 7:45 o'clock.

Trooper John M. Cummings, Warsaw, who was on a relay came upon the accident and notified local Troopers. Trooper Robert Bruce went to the scene to work this and was later joined by Sgt. Van Winkle, who with Cummings directed traffic.

Trooper Bruce reported a 1957 Ford coach driven by Charles Edward Snodgrass, 33, of 2916 West Broadway, had stopped because of the traffic backup on Highway 65. A 1956 Pontiac station wagon, driven by John A. Rubel, 47, of Raytown, had also stopped.

A 1963 Chevrolet station wagon driven by Bert Evert Facklam, 53, of Kansas City, was reported to have run into the rear of Rubel's car and it smashed into the rear of the Ford coach.

This accident continued to block the highway and for more than three miles on south, the northbound traffic was held up for nearly a half hour.

Gillespie's ambulance took Mr. and Mrs. Rubel to the Bothwell hospital, and later Facklam and his 15-year-old son went to the hospital.

Rubel received a bruised neck and back and abrasions of the left leg. Mrs. Marjorie E. Rubel, 45, his wife, received a bruised chest and right forearm.

Facklam received a laceration over the right eye, on the nose and on the right arm, abrasions of the right shoulder and complained of a chest injury. His son Robert Evert received a laceration on his chin.

The Rubels and the Facklams were treated by Dr. B. L. Boatright.

Wreckers from Parks Cities Service Station and from Bacon's Service Station towed the cars to Sedalia from both accidents.

Assistance at the hospital was given by Pvt. Jerald M. Zornes, of Ft. Leonard Wood, who prior to entering the service was an

Pvt. Zornes was hitch-hiking at 65 and 50 Highway junction when he noted the run of the ambulances. He called the hospital and offered his services and then went to Bothwell where he assisted in filling out the entry reports of the hospital and assisted as an orderly.

An accident occurred on U.S. Highway 50 at LaMonte about 5:45 o'clock in which damage resulted in two motor vehicles, but occupants escaped injury.

Trooper Robert Bruce investigated the accident and reported a 1963 Rambler station wagon driven by Charles Henry Green, 53, Route 4, California, and a 1959 Chevrolet station wagon driven by Harold W. Barnhart, Vienna, Mo., were involved.

According to Bruce, Green's car pulled out of a private driveway in front of Barnhart's and was struck by the Barnhart car. Damage to both vehicles was estimated at about $100.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you sent it . . . in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.
